

Jun. Prof. Dr. Sjon Hartman

Dutch

Institution: Plant Environmental Signalling and Development, Faculty of Biology & CIBSS, Hilde-Mangold-Haus, University of Freiburg - Habsburgerstraße 49, 79104 Freiburg

Contact: Phone: +49 761 203 97206
Email: johannes.hartman@biologie.uni-freiburg.de

Position: Junior Professor (TT, W1) in Plant Developmental Signalling

Academic education including academic degrees

2013-2015: MSc Environmental Biology (Cum laude), Utrecht University, The Netherlands

2010-2013: BSc Biology, Utrecht University, The Netherlands

Scientific graduation

2015-2020: PhD (Awarded Cum laude on 22nd of January, 2020) with Prof. Rens Voesenk, Plant Ecophysiology, Utrecht University, The Netherlands

Employment

Since 2022: Junior TT Professor (W1) in Plant Environmental Signalling and Development at the University of Freiburg

2021: Postdoctoral Rubicon Fellow at the Gibbs Lab, University of Birmingham, United Kingdom

2020: Postdoc at Plant Ecophysiology, Utrecht University, The Netherlands

Other activities, awards and honours

Since 2023: PI in the IMPRS-IEM PhD program

2022: CIBSS Project Grant awarded "Smart Roots: Understanding Adaptive Root Growth Behaviour in Waterlogged Plants"

Since 2022: Communication Ambassador of the International Society of Plant Low-Oxygen Research (ISPLORE)

Since 2022: PI in the SGBM PhD program

Since 2022: Catalyst for The EMBO Journal

Since 2022: CIBSS PI

Since 2021: Coordinator of the Early Career Researcher programme of the European COST action RoxyCOST

2020-2021: Assistant Features Editor of Plant Physiology

2021: Hugo de Vries Award for best Dutch doctoral thesis of 2020

2020: Rubicon Postdoctoral Fellowship awarded by NWO (Dutch Research Council)

2020: Niels Stensen Postdoctoral Fellowship (declined)

2019: Best poster award at the European Plant Science Retreat, Nottingham, UK

2017: Best poster award by EMBO at the N-term conference, Halle, Germany

2017: Named one of most promising young entrepreneurs of the Netherlands in a special edition of Het Financieel Dagblad (Dutch Financial Times)

2016: Best poster award at the ISPA conference, Elsinore, Denmark

2015: EPS Talent Programme PhD Grant awarded by NWO (Dutch Research Council) and the Dutch Graduate School for Experimental Plant Sciences

2014: Erasmus+ Scholarship